SHAMEEN LIKE FORTRESS: BRIDGES SANDBAGGED

Trenches Being Dug In Canton Street Corners

SHAKEE CREEK ALMOST CLEARED OF JUNKS

Canton, October 20.
THE PROSPECT OF STREET FIGHTING was seen this morning when military forces were engaged in digging trenches at street corners and hastily installing pillboxes while hectic trench digging was proceeding on the city borders. Shameen resembles a small fortress both the British and French bridges being heavily sandbagged. The French authorities are digging trenches and reinforcing their machine-gun nests with sandbags. Shakee Creek is now practically cleared of junks while the entrance to the Creek at the French Concession end of the Island is completely closed.

NO INTERNATIONAL COMPLICATIONS

JAPANESE CIRCLES CONFIDENT

Tokyo, Oct. 20.
Confidence is growing in Japanese circles that the Japanese operations in South China will be managed without international complications. This is reflected, for instance, in the stock market to which the prospect of Anglo-Japanese entanglements has been a nightmare.

Now the market is showing a strong undertone and prices are gradually rising. Replying to a question at the press conference this morning, a Japanese naval spokesman said that hitherto there had been no sign of international complications as a result of the invasion of South China.

"I hope and believe," he added, "that third Powers will take every precaution to stop trouble with the Japanese fighting forces."

The naval spokesman disclosed that no country had given advance notice, as requested by the Japanese authorities, of movements of neutral warships within the zone of operations, "but this is probably because there have been no such movements."—Reuter.

ANXIETY OVER TANGANYIKA

Dares Salaam, Oct. 20.
The local community has sent cables to the Government of India and the Indian National Congress expressing extreme anxiety over the possibility of transfer of Tanganyika to Germany.

It is pointed out that there are 25,000 Indians resident in Tanganyika and they have invested millions of pounds in business and industrial enterprises which they would lose if the country went back to Germany.—Reuter.

MAIL PILED UP AT KUNMING

Difficulties Of Transportation To Szechuen

Kunming, Oct. 20.
Thousands of mail bags intended for Szechuen are at present piled up at the Kunming Post Office owing to the difficulties of transportation by road.

Some new trucks had been bought recently but there are not sufficient numbers to cope with the situation.

All forms of transport are hard to get. Many local buses are not following the regular routes but are running between the city and country places carrying refugees from air raids.—Reuter.

SIX JAPANESE SHIPS HIT ON YANGTZE

Tsingyang, Oct. 20.
Six Japanese transports and six gunboats, passing through Wuhu for up-river places, were hit and damaged by Chinese shore batteries yesterday.

One of the transports received serious damage and had to limp down-stream to be repaired. Another Japanese medium sized gunboat was twice hit by concentrated Chinese artillery and sunk in the middle of the river.

Few of the troops aboard escaped from being drowned while the rest are believed to have gone down to the bottom of the water.—Central News.

JAPANESE WARNING

H. M. Ambassador in China has received from the Japanese Minister at large a request to the effect that, in view of the difficulty of identifying from the air signs affixed to roofs of cars and trains, nationals of third powers may be advised not to travel the area within a radius of 200 kilometres round Canton and 100 kilometres round Swatow.

Gun Threat To Briton

JAPANESE IN CAR INCIDENT

Shanghai, Oct. 20.
A British subject was threatened by a Japanese with a pistol this morning in a parking space behind an office building in Nanking Road. The Briton found that the Japanese, dressed in civilian clothes, had, it is alleged, kicked and dented and scratched his car because his own car's movement was obstructed.

As the Japanese tried to depart the Briton opened the door of the car and pulled the Chinese chauffeur out whereupon the Japanese drew a pistol.

This did not intimidate the Briton. Finally a Chinese and Japanese police constable arrived on the scene and took the name of the pistol-toting car-ticker.—Reuter.

FIGHTING IN SOUTH HONAN

Centre Again Shifts To Shao

Hankow, Oct. 20.
The centre of fighting in south Honan has again shifted to Shao in the south-eastern corner of the province near the Hupeh border, according to Chinese reports.

A detachment of 2,000 Japanese troops is said to have launched an attack on the Chinese positions in that sector yesterday. Two towns to the east of Shao, it is stated, have already fallen into Japanese hands. Wuchian, 20 kilometres to the north-west of Shao, was recaptured yesterday by Chinese forces following hand-to-hand fighting.

The Japanese are reported to have retreated in the direction of Shao leaving behind 500 dead on the field.

The situation on the south Yangtze front, it is stated, remains unchanged. Chinese claim that invading units pushing along the Tehan-Singtze highway have been repulsed.—Reuter.

BAN IMPUSED

London, Oct. 20.
It is officially stated that a ban on the importation of Japanese woolen and cotton goods has been imposed as "the limit has been reached."

Further measures to be enacted in the future against the importations include the demand for landing certificates in order to prevent the possibility of Japanese goods being sent to continental ports and then re-shipped to this country.—Reuter.

LATE MR. TONG SHAO-YI

Body Brought From Shanghai

The body of the late Mr. Tong Shao-yi, first Prime Minister of the Republic of China, who was brutally murdered by four men at the Shanghai home of his son-in-law, Mr. Chu Chang-nien, on September 30, was brought to the Colony aboard the liner Empress of Russia which arrived from the North yesterday.

Mrs. Tong Shao-yi, Mr. Tong Lao, former Chinese Consul-General at Singapore, son of the late Kuang-tung veteran statesman, and two daughters, accompanied the coffin from the Northern port.

There was a wealth of floral tributes in Mrs. Tong's cabin.

Mr. David Kung, Mr. Mao Woyan, Mr. Tu Yuet-sen, Wong Shao-li, and Mr. Chu Cheung-yin, Superintendent of the Shanghai Maritime Customs, were present at the wharf to pay their respects.

The body was taken to the Tung Wah Yit Chong where it will remain for some time after which the coffin will be taken to Macao, where it will be kept for some time as the present hostilities do not permit of the body being taken to the deceased's village, Tongkawan, for burial.

A ceremony was held at 3 p.m. yesterday at the Tung Wah Yit Chong and amongst those present were the Hon. Sir Shouson Shou, Mr. Eugene Chen, Mr. David Kung, Dr. Lew Yuk-lin, LL.D., former Chinese Minister to Great Britain, and many others. Many wreaths were sent.

The late Mr. Tong Shao-yi, veteran statesman and diplomat, was born at Fang-yu, Kwangtung, in 1860. In 1873 he was sent to America by the Manchu Government to pursue his studies. After returning to China he held various high Government posts and from 1929 to 1934 was High Adviser to the National Government at Nanking, after which time, till his tragic death, he was a member of the Supervisory Committee of the Kuomintang and also a member of the Southwest Political Council.

American Interests And Invasion Of Canton

Chungking, October 20.
Declaring that Japan's invasion of Canton, if unchecked, will bring to an end the vast interests of the United States in South China, the Chinese People's Foreign Relations Association has dispatched a cablegram to President Roosevelt asking him to hasten up measures to stop various supplies to Japan for prolonging the war.

The cablegram particularly appealed to President Roosevelt to prohibit export of ammunition, steel oil, and other military supplies, as well as money and credit to Japan.

It also hoped that President Roosevelt will urge other peace-loving countries in the world to take concerted action.

The dispatch pointed out that Japan's aggressive designs, far from being confined to Chinese territory, have spread to various American possessions.

It cited, as recent cases, the anti-American campaign engineered by Japan in the Philippines, the shady plot on the Panama Canal, and the wild scheme of landing at Honolulu, and said it is high time for the United States to take time by action.—Central News.

MARSHAL BUDJENNY'S DOWNFALL SEEN

Warsaw, Oct. 20.
The disappearance of Marshal Vassily Bluecher will, according to a Moscow report to the paper "Czas," shortly be followed by the downfall of Marshal Budjenny who for some time past has been the object of violent attacks in the Soviet press which tends to show that his position is greatly shaken.

The report asserts that Marshal Budjenny, who is now Commander-in-Chief of the Moscow Military District was recently relieved of his post as Inspector-General of Cavalry.—Transocean.

Emergency Regulations Enacted In Palestine

Jerusalem, Oct. 20.
THE HIGH COMMISSIONER FOR PALESTINE, Sir Herbert MacMichael, is empowered, under Emergency Regulations enacted to-day, to demolish or take possession of property in Palestine of any person residing in the country, or abroad, who is regarded as a rebel. The order will affect political refugees outside the country.

The military forces appear almost to have completed the first part of their objective in the re-occupation of the Old City.

The house-to-house search was continued to-day. A number of bombs were thrown at the military forces and sniping was resumed yesterday evening. In skirmishes in the Old City a number of Arabs were killed.

Searchlights, mounted on the walls of the Old City, were played throughout the night on the mosque centre.

British troops may find it difficult to eradicate the Arab rebels owing to the system of old underground tunnels and passages which give them good hiding places.—Reuter.

THE MILWAUKEE ROAD

BRIBE OFFERED TO OFFICIAL ALLEGED

Wireless Teachers In Trouble

Hung Kwan-chol, 25, headmaster of the Communication Electrical Engineering College, and Cheung Wai-kun, alias W. L. L. Cheung, a teacher of the college, residing at No. 27, Lyndhurst Terrace, appeared before Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday charged with bribing a Government official.

The two defendants were alleged to have offered a bribe of $100 to Mr. A. E. F. Jeffries, Wireless Inspector, on September 9.

A further charge of possession of a transmission and receiving radio set without a licence was preferred against Cheung.

Mr. J. B. Prentis, Assistant Crown Solicitor, appeared for the prosecution, while Mr. Hin-shing Lo was for the defence.

The case was remanded for seven days, and bail was allowed at $500 each.

TRAFFICKING IN GIRLS

Unemployed Sent To Prison

EVIDENCE TAKEN

Appearing before Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Court yesterday on charges in connection with trafficking in women and girls, Chin Tung-kan, 38, unemployed, was sentenced to 11 months' hard labour.

Chin Tung-kan was charged on two counts of trafficking in women and girls, two of harbouring women and girls sold for prostitution and living on the earnings of prostitutes. He pleaded guilty to the charge of trafficking between September and November 1937.

Chin was the second of four defendants involved in charges of this nature. The first accused, Ng Shu-yin, woman, was sentenced to 12 months' imprisonment a few days ago.

The two remaining defendants, who were similarly charged were Chu Po-chu, married woman, and Chau Lo-sam, widow.

Mr. J. M. D'Almada Remedios appeared for the defence and pleaded not guilty.

Mr. J. B. Prentis, Assistant Crown Solicitor, was in charge of the prosecution, assisted by Detective Sub-Inspector J. O'Donovan.

The case was first heard on September 26 and 27 when two girls, the alleged victims, gave evidence. At the conclusion of the second hearing the prosecution applied for the charges to be amended, and this was granted.

One of the girls, Chin Fei-fel, aged 19, in the witness box yesterday, said that her parents died about nine years ago and she had been adopted by a woman in Shanghai who later went to live with a man named Sham. Witness was then sold to Chu Po-chu. She remained in Shanghai for some time, and was brought to Swatow where, she said, she was forced to practise prostitution. She was later brought to Hongkong and after living here for a while she was taken back to Swatow.

Following a short stay there, witness said she was brought again to Hongkong where she was forced to practise prostitution.

Witness added that she acted as a guide in an escort bureau for a period but on various occasions she had to practise prostitution.

After further evidence the hearing was adjourned to this afternoon.

SPEECH MADE ON FERRY

Emergency Case Dismissed

NO DISORDER

The case against Wong Shiu-chi, unemployed dentist, charged under the Emergency Regulations Ordinance, 1922, with making a public speech on a ferry launch on October 9, in furtherance of disorder, was dismissed by Mr. E. Hmsworth at the Kowloon Court yesterday.

Giving judgment, the Magistrate said:—

The defendant is charged with an alleged breach of Sec. 19 of the Emergency Regulations.

That section reads: "No person shall do any act in furtherance of the promotion of a general strike, or of disorder of any kind, or of the spread of sedition, within the colony." The phrasing of this section, if it is to be clearly understood, requires careful analysis.

Three kinds of action are prohibited: first an act in furtherance of the promotion of a general strike, secondly an act in furtherance of disorder and thirdly an act in furtherance of sedition.

The defendant is alleged to have committed breach of the second kind of act, although the charge is, I think wrong in stating his act to be "in furtherance of the promotion of disorder." The words "the promotion of" are in my opinion confined to the phrase "a general strike" and have no reference to the words "or of disorder."

The facts of the case are that the defendant, in an impromptu speech on the Man Kung Ferry on October 9, said that all J. P.s. and all rich Chinese in the Colony should be killed, that the drivers and owners of cars on that ferry should be killed, and that a certain director of the Yamuati Ferry Co. should be killed. The point in issue is whether these words constitute an act in furtherance of disorder.

NO DISORDER

According to Webster's Dictionary the word "furtherance" means an act of furthering or helping forward, or advancement. Now in this case the evidence shows conclusively that there was no disorder. The outward reaction of the crowd on the ferry which heard defendant's words was nil. His listeners, not only did not indulge in any disorder, but apparently expressed no reactions whatsoever, either of approval or disapproval, but went no further than indulging in a little idle curiosity by giving the speaker their attention.

It should be observed that the regulation does not intimate that words which tend to, or which might lead to, the furtherance of disorder constitute an offence; they must actually help in the advancement of disorder.

It does, however, seem clear that you cannot further help forward or advance something which neither exists nor was brought into existence.

Since there was no disorder whatsoever in this case, I hold that the defendant in making the above remarks did not do an act in furtherance of disorder. He is accordingly discharged.

YOUTH WHO STOLE MILK BOTTLES

Sentence of six months' hard labour was imposed on 20-year-old unemployed, Ng Tim, when he pleaded guilty before Mr. R. Edwards at the Central Court yesterday to theft of 20 milk bottles property of the Dairy Farm Co.

Defendant was seen by a detective carrying a sack which, when opened was found to contain the bottles.

GIRL KILLED BY ROCK DURING BLASTING

Quarry Master's Testimony

The inquiry into the death of a four-year-old girl, Kwok Fung, believed to have been killed when struck by a rock hurled from a stone quarry during blasting operations was continued at the Kowloon Court yesterday before Mr. G. A. A. Macfarlane, sitting as Coroner, and a jury comprising Messrs. John Russell (foreman), R. H. Schwob, and Leung Shui-po. Kong Shun-chi, master of the quarry concerned, stated in evidence that in blasting operations his men always used a wooden shield and gunny sacks to cover the bored hole containing the charge of gunpowder.

He had known of loose pieces of rock to be blown about 20 to 40 feet away, but he had never known of a rock being hurled 700 feet. He knew instances of the shield being thrown up four or five feet by the force of the explosion.

In his opinion the people in the huts in the vicinity of which the child was killed were quite safe from any possibility of danger.

Evidence was also given by Kong Chung, foreman. Hearing of the case was adjourned.

GUNNERS CHARGED WITH ROBBERY

Appearing on remand before Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Court yesterday on a charge of robbery by two or more, Gunner John Thomas Phelan, 21, and Gunner Frederick Denis Hamer, 24, of the 24th Heavy Battery, 8th Heavy Brigade, R. A., were further remanded for seven days.

Defendants were alleged to have robbed Leung Ting, 33, of the sum of $8 in Kennedy Town on October 10.

CONFIDE IN FAITH PRIOR

A SAD MOTHER'S STORY AND NEED OF ADVICE: "I was married seven years ago. My husband was the only child of a devoted widowed mother whose love for him was his final destruction. We lived together four years, finally, after years of unspeakable cruelty on his part, I left him, taking the baby. He went to his mother."

I never divorced him and I did not see him. I have an adequate income from an estate, and no help was necessary from him. After years of tragic procession in and out of mental hospitals and drink cures, he died. That was recently.

The grandmother never understood why I left her son and has never asked to see the baby. She is utterly alone, in straitened circumstances, and I would like to make her know that she is welcome to see my boy and be friends with me if she wishes.

The child is beautiful and affectionate and, as both my parents are dead, she is the only grandparent the child has. I also wish to waive all rights to any estate left by my husband to her favour. I want to do the right thing, and the kind thing. Please tell me how to go about it?

YOU'D BETTER GO and see her instead of writing. Take the child with you, and tell the youngster he is going to see his grandmother. To soften any impression he might get, in case his grandmother is still bitter, tell him beforehand that she has had a great sorrow and may seem strange, but that she loves him.

Then go simply and kindly, one woman to another. Her heart is, no doubt, empty and she will welcome any love that comes to her. If she repulses you, don't be discouraged. Be gentle and kind and go away, then write her the note, not excusing yourself or blaming your husband.

Tell her that your little boy is waiting to know and love his grandmother. Invite her specifically for luncheon or dinner on a set date just for the three of you. Then if finally she is still unconvinced, you will at least have done all that you can. Somehow, we feel that she will respond to your generous gesture.

DEAR FAITH PRIOR: I am in love with a girl in the Colony. Will you please help me? I wish to marry the girl and I do not know how to ask her. Should I write her a letter? I am afraid she will refuse me. Then what do I do?

SCARED MALE.

You are indeed a scared male. Marriage is one of the outstanding events in every human's life, however, think about this situation you wish to enter. Is your income sufficient to support a wife and home? Analyze your character and that of the girl's, do they clash? Are you very sure you are really in love?

Then, ask your question, but do not do so in writing, when you both live in the Colony. Invite the young lady of your affections to tea, dinner, a motor ride or simply call upon her in the family home. Take flowers with you; this is a very nice gesture. During the course of your visit, quietly and simply inform the lady of your feelings and ask her to marry you.

The rest is between you and the lady. If the answer is no, accept same in a gracious manner—Or "never say die," continue with your campaign at a later date.

DEAR FAITH PRIOR: Can you give advice about naughty children? My daughter of fourteen is quite independent and older than her age, and believes she knows all the answers to life. She insists upon using "make-up" in the extreme. Too, she smokes cigarettes which is not only injurious to her health, but forbidden by her father and myself.

WORRIED MOTHER.

An ultimatum has been issued by her father. The next time this occurs, either I will have to give her a whipping or he will. I have never received such a punishment in my life or administered one. I do not know how to go about this procedure, and I know perfectly well my daughter will disobey again, and then what do I do?

DEAR WORRIED MOTHER: Young girls at the age of fourteen and there about are difficult, and especially when the parents have not kept a watchful eye upon them. This is near the age and one of the turning points in their life. Soon your daughter will no longer be a little girl, but a young lady and should be treated as such. Consequently, she has outgrown whippings, which sometimes prove useful punishment for younger children.

I believe the father should leave this matter to you and your daughter. Point out and explain to her the bad taste, as well as ignorance, in a coated or over-painted complexion. Go to her mirror and teach her the "art of make-up," and congratulate her when she improves in this regard.

Do not rage, nag or dictate to her, give her an honest and intelligent explanation of her actions, forget you are mother and be more of a friendly sister to your daughter.

Smoking for a young girl is bad for her health, becomes a habit hard to break and not a bit necessary. However, young ladies, these days will and do smoke. Therefore, resign yourself, keep your daughter from cigarettes for another couple of years at least, explain what it does to her health.

If these youngsters growing up insist upon trying most of life's experiences, parents can at least inform and instruct them in what difficulties they will encounter and frequently you will find their interest wanes.

(Each week in this column, FAITH PRIOR answers questions of a personal nature submitted by readers of the Daily Press.)

Round The Shops

Parties and more parties are on the calendar for the next couple of weeks, and you have nothing to wear! But it is not the fault of our shops. Get into the habit of shopping several days a week and you will be rewarded with a first selection.

Chilly Nights

Your toes and arms are beginning to feel the cool night breezes; slumbers are disturbed when you must awaken and grope for warmer covering! Solve the difficulty by investing in several pairs of the "Meridian" pyjamas, a new line. They are made of fine woven cotton, very soft, and styled in two pieces, pants with elastic tops, and jacket buttoning down the front. The trim at the neck and sleeves is contrasting and can stand the rigours of the wash-board.

A few each week must be reserved for relaxation and beauty sleep. And on these evenings a bit of reading under the bedside lamp is enjoyable, but quite cool on winter nights. Then slip into the light weight wool knit bed jackets. New ones have just arrived and at $3.50 and $4.50 you have comfort and beauty. White, blue, green and pink are the colours. Styled with a high neck, and some have swansdown binding, the sleeves, three quarters in length.

The Felts

You can put your heads into a felt chapeau nowadays and be comfortable. A hat shop in town can solve the question of just what you want or they can cause you to have the fitters in trying to decide. A very good selection is on hand for your choice. Black, navy blue, brown felts with lots of sassy trims, just the sophisticated veil trim, or none at all.

And remember, the service this shop offers; hoods of all colours available to be fashioned into any style hat you select.

Black Is Smart

Black is suitable anywhere. Business outfit or afternoon costume, you will always be well dressed when wearing a black suit, wool dress or crepe afternoon dress or crepe afternoon dress in black. Across the bay one of the small specialty shops has just received several well tailored and smart crepe and light wool, black frocks. Gathers, gores, pleats are incorporated in the styles which have unusual and interesting trimmings.

There are a few left, but many have been purchased! Checks, plaids and stripes in daytime spectator outfits, of light weight wool and the colours combined are flattering and gay. Another shipment is expected this week, so keep an eye open and get the first selection. These dresses are very high style so do not plan to be without a check or plaid this winter.

Interest In Evening

This winter fashion makes a race out of evening apparel. Almost anything goes and more opportunity is given each of you to use your individuality and wits in clothing yourselves with interest. Everyone wants to be an interest in the dancing and dining hours. One of the new shops, recently opened, can help you out. The selection of their dinner and dancing frocks is unusual. Velvet, grosgrain, moire, crepes and satins are made into very different styles.

And one of those dresses you are in search of is found here. Black taffeta and net, the skirt treatment in panels of taffeta divided with flares of net is quite striking.

Take a look and have the dress modelled for you. And watch out or you will not be able to resist an evening dress with a fur wrap to complete the costume.

Any information pertaining to these items may be obtained from Barbara Lee, 30251, or enclose a self addressed envelope to the "Daily Press."

Fashion PRE-VIEW

FABRICS FOR YOUR WINTER DRAPERIES

The "safety first" each winter is black, which is, always chic, outstanding and flattering, you will see plenty of this colour in wool and silk during the coming months. In the streets, restaurants and ballrooms.

But what about the "umph" in the new fabrics for your wardrobe? Go into colour!

The plums are very popular and can be worn with any complexion. Olive, green, green-blue, beige, pink, rust, peony-red, prune shade (you will see much more of this shade by November) wine red and electric blue. Combine your colours and do not be afraid to look like a walking circus with three-colour combinations. Everyone is doing just that, all the fashion centers and their population have gone colour-crazy.

Smooth textures in fabrics are broadcloth, velour for town coats and dressy suits or street dresses. But choose the smooth, hard worsted for your suits.

queen when worn with the high-piled hair and old-fashioned jewellery.

Ribbed silks (such as the gold chair in the living room is upholstered in), galleys, ottomans, grosgrains and surats are as nice for formal clothes as in the dinner outfits.

Be sure that your fabrics have body—whether for evening or day clothes. The important new fulness, the new square look, and materials that don't go limp on you. Be rich and crisp!

With all this richness of fabrics and colour, do not forget the furs. Muffs—and what they can't and won't do for your costume—be sure you have one which can be loaned to other outfits. Scarfs, large and small. Capes long and short. Hats high and low. The fur detachable cuffs in wide and narrow sizes. And the lucky tall lasses who can cuddle up in the two large foxes, any colour, wound about their neck and waist.

Jewellery will be another large item in the wardrobe. Heavy, barbaric gold and silver peccies, some with semi-precious stones of various colours. Old fashioned jewels, dog collars in jewels. Rings, bracelets, ear-rings, pendants, clasps, brooches, clips, pins, worn in your hair, your throat, arms, fingers and pinned to your costume in a conspicuous place and lending the final touch to the winter ensemble picture.

Think and plan your winter wardrobe—it should be quite new and cannot help but be different. Add up your colour, fabrics, cuts and accessories and the sum total will be you and your ensemble, very high in fashion and the last word in style.

HALF AND HALF

Many of the newest coats are neither fur coats nor cloth coats—they are half and half. The upper part may be made entirely of fur, while the lower part is of tweed, velour, duveton or face cloth. Usually the sleeves are made of fur too, or are fur from shoulder to elbow.

Smooth skins are often chosen for these coats—mink, nutria, sealskin, shaved muskash or sable—but much bushier furs are also seen. Some of the most successful models of this kind are made in skunk, opossum, squirrel, bear, lynx, and even fox. There are also coats that have just a yoke of fur, or fur sleeves. A lovely ensemble by a leading designer is a deep brown velvet frock worn with a mustard-yellow bolero edged with nutria and having short, full puff sleeves of nutria.

VELVET TOWN COAT

Very, very new and so practical, besides being smart, is a velvet town coat of rust colour and waterproof.

This garment was recently displayed at a Fashion opening of winter styles and has proved very popular in Europe and America. Velvet is one of the outstanding selections for winter outfits, morning, afternoon and evening. And many garments are now being made in this new winter resistant fabric which appears to be such a sensible town and country type of idea.

BIG MEDICINE FIRM MERGER

Two of the largest proprietary medicine companies in the world, Beechams Pills Ltd., and Eno Proprietary, Ltd., are likely to become associated within the next few days.

Mr. Philip E. Hill, chairman of Beechams Pills Ltd., said: "Shareholders in the Eno Company will receive an offer from Beechams for an exchange on the basis of five beechams deferred shares for eight Eno ordinary shares."

Both the firms involved in the new deal have grown from tiny one-man concerns to businesses with world-wide ramifications, involving capital amounting to many millions of pounds.

Badge of Cupid

On this costume worn by Ginger Rogers in "Carefree," dimissual co-starling Fred Astaire are an embroidered heart and arrows suggestive of at least a nod to Dan Cupid.

DULL SURFACES

Your silk, rayons or silk and wool combination fabrics follow the same line as the wools. The silks are dull and have smooth surfaces. Rich massy crepes, pebbly weaves. Sheer wool volles and georgettes. Ribbed grosgrains, bengalines, twills and corded crepes. Jersey will be a sure bet, wool, silk or rayon texture. There will be one exception in the new winter fabric rule: the revival of matelasse or cloque fabrics. Quite a few have the embossed design and others, which appear newer, are crinkled in a very stylized pattern.

Stop and look! Stripes, checks and plaids will greet you on every other person and in each store window. They, too, are very popular for day costumes. Tweeds, crepes, taffeta, rayon and light weight weight wools all have their share of these designs.

In the evening hours, you will find many people swishing about in "moire." This material takes the pastels in a clear and bright spirit, grey, yellow, rose and faded blue, will have their day. And this is just the stiff substance needed for the new, important-skirted dresses. Heavy slipper satins, lames weighted with metal, taffetas, and stiff laces will also swing about on m'lady's figure in the night dancing and dining hours. Velvet, of course, but this year in black, or the deep fruit-pulse red it will be

FASHIONS, SHADES AND TONES

VINTAGES ARE HAVING a fashion vantage this coming season.

Both the beverage and the bottle help to make you a smart woman. The colour artists have squeezed the grape, and the juices are lusciously lovely. It isn't the wine tones of other years that you'll be wearing this winter. A far more subtle tone is going to heads, hands, feet, stockings, suits and dresses.

Wine with a purple tone is far the most important colour in the cards. Many different shades and tones, ranging from plum to prune to violet to mauve. Some aspire to the deep purple so dark you can't tell whether the shade is brown, red, purple or black.

The most venerable member of the grape family clan is the raisin. Wrinkled and a little dim in real life. But when our artists translate this tone to woollens for suits and coats it becomes rich with luxurious tints.

Now the liquid inside the container gives colour to our fashion life. But the bottle itself is the source of great (?) inspiration. The shape is reflected in a new silhouette. Not bulky hips - no - but in drooping shoulders. Some humorous fashion designed has seen the similarity (however doubtful you may think it is) between the graceful lines of a slim necked bottle and the swanlike lines of a woman's neck (now that hair is worn high).

Carrying the idea down the bottle neck they reflect that the drooping shoulders on some of our newer models having dolman sleeves make the fair feminine form look not unlike the wine bottle from which the inspiration for colour has been gathered.

So, you fashion minded women. Remember that it isn't only the porto shades, the grape tones and the winey purples that are fashionable. The bottle from which the enticing liquid comes is also of particular interest this season.

THE CITY AND GUILDS EXAMINATIONS

Examinations in written subjects in the programme of the City and Guilds of London Institute, states a new Fleet Order, may be held in any H.M. ships or naval establishments at home and abroad, provided that the candidates are naval ratings who have been instructed under Service arrangements. The examinations are held annually in May.

Unless special arrangements are made on the station, intending candidates should apply through their commanding officers, who will make arrangements direct with the Superintendent, Department of Technology, at the institute. Commanding officers will be responsible for the custody of the question papers, and for arranging that examinations are supervised by an officer not below the rank of lieutenant. Forms of entry and fees must reach the institute by March 15, 1939, for examinations to be taken in Great Britain and Ireland, and by February 14 for those overseas.

FUNERAL PROCEDURE

The Lordships have decided that at naval funerals the bugle call Rouse will follow, after a short pause, the sounding of Last Post. Officers' salutes, with the hand will be confined to the single occasion when the armed party present arms after fixing bayonets. The position at the salute is to be held during the sounding of Last Post and Rouse, which follow immediately on the present arms. The sounding of the Commodore's Salute between volleys is to be discontinued.

SMALL BUT DANGEROUS

Harm Done By Flea And Mosquito

When we think of dangerous animals, we think at once of great man-eating animals like lions and tigers, and also of snakes, crocodiles, sharks, the number of people who fall victims to these animals every year makes quite a respectable figure.

And yet these are not the most dangerous creatures for humanity. A very much greater danger is that constituted by other creatures, whose size is in inverse proportion to the harm they do.

For example, we think that the flea is merely annoying, and not dangerous to man. And yet it is to this tiny insect that humanity owes the terrible plagues that have caused so much havoc throughout the ages. In the 14th century, more than a quarter of the population of Europe succumbed to the "Black Plague". It is by its bite that the flea introduces into man's body the bacillus of the rat plague.

By observing hygienic precautions (destruction of rats and fleas) the development of this terrible malady has been checked.

For a long time the mosquito was looked on as an annoying, but not a dangerous, insect. It is to eminent men like Laveran, and Sir Ronald Ross, that we owe the knowledge that mosquitoes can be malaria transmitting agents of malaria parasites. It is their sting that introduces the latter into the body and produces malignant fevers.

We get some idea of what this means, when we learn that the number of victims claimed every year by malaria throughout the world amounts to several millions. But science has not remained inactive and has found for malaria a remedy that is both preventive and curative—quinine.

According to the Malaria Commission of the League of Nations, a dose of six grains of quinine each day during the whole of the fever season is enough to give immunity from this malady, and for the treatment of malaria itself, 15 to 20 grains of quinine a day for five to seven days is quite enough. Any relapse is treated in the same way. It is not necessary to give additional treatment.

What The Stars Are Doing

Charles R. Rogers, former production chief at Universal, is preparing The Star-Maker as a "musical cavalcade" on the lines of Alexander's Ragtime Band. The central character is Gus Edwards, song-writer who discovers Eddie Cantor, Mae Murray and Walter Winchell among others. Rogers wants Bing Crosby for the part.

William Gargan is Kay Francis's leading man in her last picture for Warners, Women in the Wind.

Sam Goldwyn discovered a fifteen-year-old girl to groom for stardom. She starts at a salary of $25 a week, rising to $200 if the options are taken up. Her name at present is Earlyne Schools.

Anatole Litvak will direct Danielle Darrieux in Rio. He directed her famous French film, Mayerling.

Mary Astor's injuries after a fall from her horse, have caused a production delay on "Listen, Darling" in which Freddie Bartholomew and Judy Garland are teamed.

The Patriotic Order, Sons of America, at a recent convention passed the following resolution: "Marriage is a sacred trust, except in Hollywood and among people of the screen."

Ralph Morgan is to succeed Robert Montgomery as president of the Screen Actors Guild. James Cagney and Joan Crawford have been nominated to remain first and second vice-presidents.

Martha Raye means to try to get her sister, known as Melodye Raye, into films. Melodye is seventeen and has no experience of singing or dancing.

May Robson fell and broke her arm after returning from location on They Made Me a Criminal. John Garfield's starring drama, Beulah Bondi takes her place in the picture.

Patric Knowles has left Warners. He felt he was too much the same type as Errol Flynn to get a break at the same studio.

Humphrey Bogart, George Brent and Walter Abel will appear in The Bigger They Are, based on the recent "Dutch" Schultz case.

Frank Capra's three-year-old son died after a tonsil operation on the day Capra's latest comedy, You Can't Take It With You, had its Hollywood premiere.

Newcomer Nancy Kelly gets the co-star part with Alice Faye in "Tallulah" for which Zanuck tried to borrow Myrna Loy. This will be Nancy's third film.

The title of Alice Faye's first non-singing film has been changed from By the Dawn's Early Light to The Girl from Brooklyn.

Hal Wallis, head of Warners, Paul Muni, William Dieterle, Chase, Jimmy Wallington, Luise Rainer and his Band and Johnny Green and his Orchestra—they make the picture.

MANY STARS IN ONE PICTURE

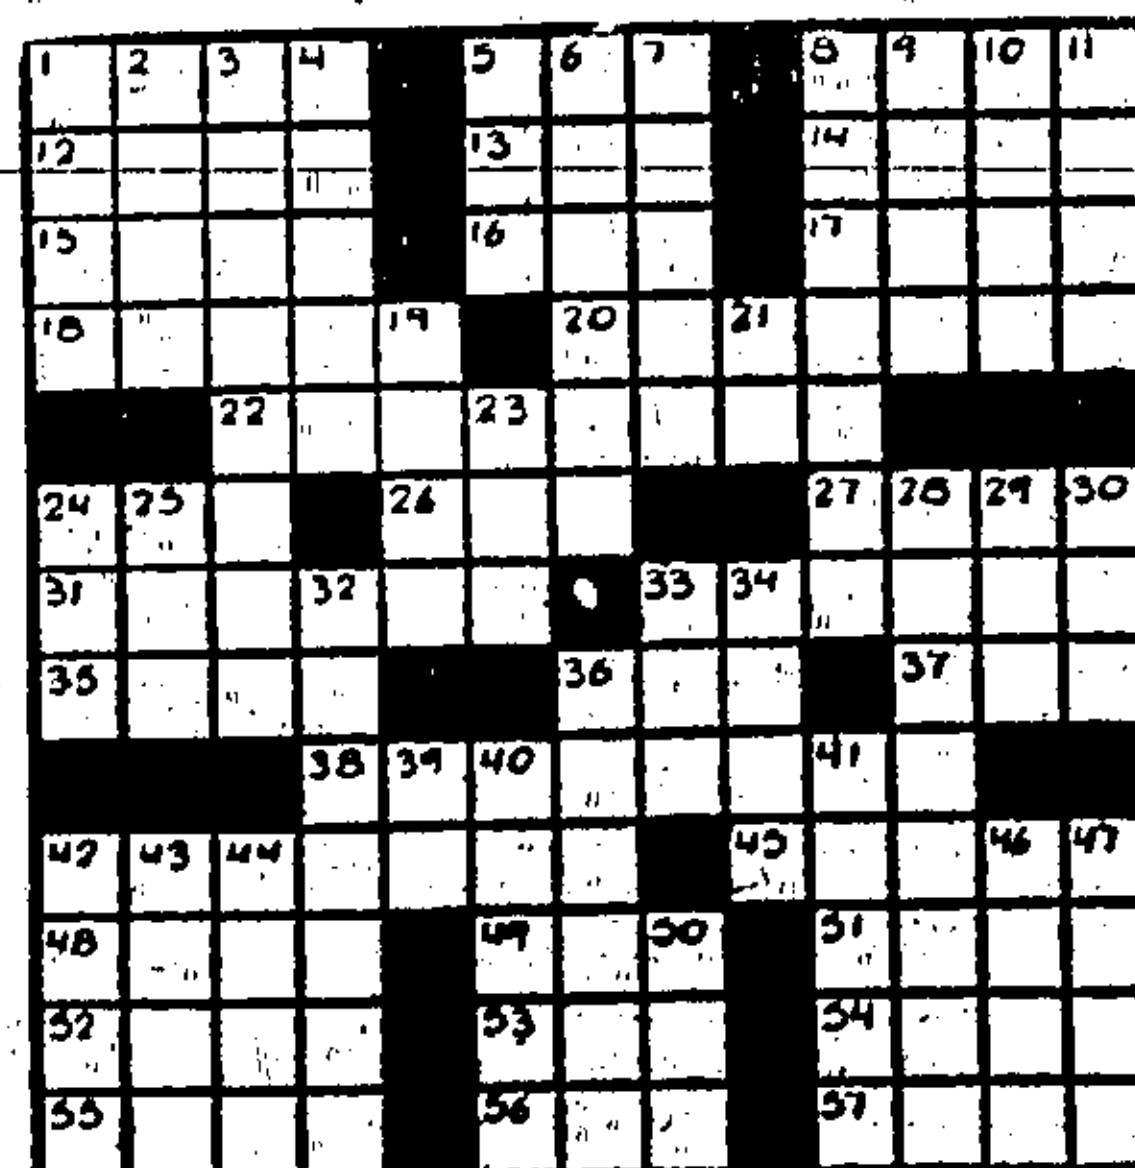

When good actors get together, something exciting is bound to happen. Which is just another way of saying that the latest Columbia musical, "Start Cheering," which opens to-day at the King's Theatre, is excellent entertainment. It is tuneful and fast, and it boasts one of the largest collections of star names the screen has ever seen.

Jimmy Durante, Walter Connolly, Joan Perry, Charles Starrett, Professor Quiz (of Radio fame), Gertrude Niesen, Raymond Walburn the Three Stooges, Broderick Crawford, Hal LeRoy, Ernest Truex, Virginia Dale, Charles Chase, Jimmy Wallington, Luise Rainer and his Band and Johnny Green and his Orchestra—they make the picture.

CANTON CITY CALM DESPITE JAPANESE THREAT EVACUATION PROCEEDS BY RIVER ROUTE

Canton, October 20. Notwithstanding the Japanese threat to capture Canton by advancing from the East River districts, the authorities here remain unusually calm and have the situation well in hand. A tour of the city revealed that about 85 per cent. of the shops and business firms have suspended business and most of the shopkeepers and employees have gone to the interior. Owing to the official order for dispersal of the populace, only about 300,000 people, or roughly one-fifth of the population, remain.

Since the closing of Bocca Tigris, river traffic between Canton and Hongkong has been suspended, and to reach the British Colony or Macao the evacuees have to take a much longer route by way of Shekkl, Chungshan County, and Macao, thence by steamers to Hongkong. Towboats and other river craft are packed to capacity. Several vernacular newspapers are making preparations to shift to Kweilin, Kwangsi or Kwang-chowwan, and those that are still in publication have to be content to issue one edition only and to reduce their number of pages owing to lack of staff and difficulties in obtaining news, as there is only one news agency functioning in the city.

DAILY RECREATION

The police force and the gendarmes are being called out en bloc to maintain law and order and to conduct the people to dug-outs in case of air raids.

Much against general expectation, many people are still frequenting restaurants, tea-houses, theatres and cinema palaces. War or no war, they are apparently not to be deprived of their daily recreation.—International News.

WHEREABOUTS OF JAPANESE VAGUE

The whereabouts of the main Japanese forces continues to be obscure. Reports from Chinese sources fail to reveal the point reached by the Japanese main body.

According to Central News, efforts of Japanese cavalry patrols to penetrate the Chinese outposts, north of the East River, were repulsed. A vanguard, a battalion strong, is reported to have been engaged and repelled by Chinese troops at Yangchun, about 50 kilometres southeast of Lungmoon.

According to the same sources, 83 Japanese planes were reported to have been engaged in bombing in Kwanlung yesterday. Heavy fighting was reported yesterday morning and continued to the afternoon between Japanese troops and Chinese between Poklo and Tsengshing.

REFUGEE RELIEF

Meanwhile, the Kwangtung authorities are taking steps to relieve the large number of refugees as a result of the Japanese invasion of the province. Nine refugee relief zones have been established by the Kwangtung Relief Commission. A sum of $20,000 has been allotted to each zone for relief purposes.

The evacuation of civilians from Canton is "proceeding apace. Owing to inadequacy of communication facilities, much difficulty is being encountered. It is understood that the Bureau of Social Welfare is negotiating with the steamship companies to facilitate evacuation.

Foreign missionary circles in Canton are reported to be approaching the authorities concerned for the establishment of a refugee zone in the city.

TAMSHUI A DEAD CITY

Tamshui is now a dead city reports Mr. Chu Wun-ming, head of the Waiyeung Youth Service Corps, who has arrived in Hongkong.

According to Mr. Chu, Lungkong, midway between Tamshui and Pingwu, is still in Chinese hands and the situation there remains calm.

Mr. Chu revealed that the militia corps at Tamshui put up stiff resistance against the Japanese invaders. About 50 of them sacrificed their lives in the defence of their native town, states Central News.

PEACE IN PO ON

Peace and quiet still reigns in Po On, on the Pearl River Delta, writes a correspondent of the "Wah Tsz Yat Po" who visited the district yesterday. Alarming reports of Japanese troops landing in Po On a few days ago are entirely groundless, the correspondent said, as no trace of Japanese can be found there and in the neighbouring areas.

He found the people calm and carrying on their business as usual. Only a small number of women and children have evacuated. Some of the shops boarded up when the Japanese first landed at Bias Bay, but since Monday business has returned to normal.

The correspondent found the terrain at Namtau, where a Japanese landing was falsely reported, to be extremely hilly. He was convinced that even if a landing were effected the Japanese would find it very difficult to drive inland.

CHEKWAN SHELLING

At Chekwon, southeast of Namtau, the correspondent saw three Japanese warships anchored off the coast. From a native there, he learned that the vessels shelled Chekwon on October 8, killing several civilians and slightly damaging a temple. But since then, they have not taken any new actions.

Since the Bias Bay landing on October 12, the Po On authorities have taken precautionary measures for protection of the town, reports Central News. They have dynamited many important high-way bridges which might be utilised by the Japanese should they effect a landing in Po On and also blew up a wharf to forestall possible landing operations.

Most of 500,000 men in Po On have joined the self-defence corps and received rigid military training. They are expected to give a good account of themselves in the event of a Japanese attack on their district.

GENERAL HONJO COMMANDS

Canton, Oct. 20. At a press conference yesterday evening, a Chinese spokesman said that General Honjo, of Mukden fame, is commander-in-chief of the Japanese Expeditionary Forces in South China, while General Matsui is second in command.

He further stated that the Japanese invaders comprised the 11th and 114th Divisions, totalling 42,000 men.

The spokesman reiterated that the main Japanese push westward from Walchow had still not started, and he denied reports that the Japanese had already occupied Tsengching and Sheklung.

He added that guerrilla troops were at present forming in the districts north-east and south-west of Tamshui, which he claimed were continually harassing the Japanese communication.

GOVERNOR AND PRESSMEN

Governor Wu Teh-chen entertained a small group of pressmen at his residence yesterday afternoon. Governor Wu looked tired, but happy, his cheerful appearance seeming to belie reports of the rapid Japanese advance.

It is confirmed here that the Chinese destroyed the already damaged Sheklung bridge, indicating that the Japanese are at least in this vicinity, if not actually in possession of the town.—Reuter.

CONFUSION IN CRISIS

Irregularities In A.R.P. Work

London, Oct. 20

The confusion in air raid precaution work during the recent crisis is described in reports to the city councils of Birmingham and Bristol.

In Birmingham half the gas masks issued to the inhabitants were found not to fit.

Arrangements for the evacuation of the populace had not included facilities to cater for their food after they had left the city, and less than half the A.R.P. warden were trained.

In Bristol the distribution of gas masks had to be stopped half way because a number of essential parts were missing from a consignment of masks from the Home Office.—Reuter.

JAPANESE STOCKINGS BANNED

London, Oct. 20.

A ban on the importation into England of Japanese woollen and cotton stockings has been imposed. It is officially announced.

The order, which will remain in force until the end of the year, becomes effective immediately.—Transocean.

FR. JACQUINOT IN CHUNGKING

Chungking, Oct. 20.

Father Jacquinot, founder of the refugee zone at Nantao, Shanghai, arrived here from Hankow by plane yesterday.

Shortly after arrival, he conferred with Mr. Chu Ying-kwang, Vice-Chairman of the National Relief Commission, and other members of the Commission, on the establishment of a refugee zone in Hankow and the relief of refugees in Shanghai and Kwangtung.

It is understood that he will return to Hankow in a few days as much work awaits him there.—Central News.

NOTED AMERICAN AUTHOR HERE

Mr. Halliburton To Go On Sailing Trip To U.S.

A big surprise tried to walk quietly into our Colony yesterday, but thanks to a search in the s. s. Potsdam's passenger list he did not succeed. None other do we speak of than Mr. Richard Halliburton, famous American author, lecturer and traveller.

Of course, you all have read the excellent books "The Royal Road to Romance," "New Worlds to Conquer," and "The Flying Carpet" among several other works.

This good-looking young man, of Scottish origin, is about to set out on another adventure which will be material for his next book. Sailing the Pacific Ocean in the next few months will occupy his time and should provide amusing and exciting reading.

CREW HERE

The call at Hongkong is to investigate the possibilities of purchasing a 50 to 100-foot junk. The crew, which will accompany this ambitious author, has been completed and several of them are waiting here.

Mr. John Welch, an experienced yachtsman, having sailed in the inter-club yacht races held every two years from Santa Barbara, California, to Hongkong, will be as captain of this sailing trip.

Mr. Henry J. Von Fehren, who arrived on the President Coolidge on Tuesday will be the engineer and mechanic.

Completing the crew is Mr. Paul Moon and four young American men who are keen and experienced yachtsmen. Yes, and a cook.

ROUTE PLANNED

The route planned for the voyage is via the North, and the destination is San Francisco. Mr. Halliburton hopes to arrive there at the end of February. This will enable him to carry out his plans of presenting his junk to the Exhibition, which will open on Treasure Island, in the San Francisco Bay at the beginning of next year.

The traveller's last visit to Hongkong was in 1932 when he flew in his own plane across Europe to the Philippines, this being the first flight by anyone from Europe to the southern Islands. He later visited the Colony before returning to America.

The exact time or port of embarkation for his journey across to America has not definitely been settled. Mr. Halliburton will make a few side trips out of Hongkong while the search is on for a junk and the overhaul and fitting work is carried out.

It is a pleasure to welcome this

WEDDING IN TUDOR HALL

Bride Was Former Hongkong Girl

Tudor Hall, Wood-street, Barnet, was used for the first time recently for a wedding reception.

The reception was given by Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Parker-Rees, formerly of the Public Works Department, Hongkong, after the marriage of their elder daughter, Miss Nancy Parker-Rees, to Mr. W. Gerald Grinley, of Bhubirhat T.E. Sylhet, Assam, India.

The bridegroom is the younger son of the late Mr. W. D. Grinley and of Mrs. Grinley.

The wedding was at Chipping Barnet Parish Church, and the Rev. P. Cecil Dean (Rector of Barnet) officiated. Mr. A. S. Martin-Smith was at the organ, and the singing was led by a choir of boys. The hymns, "Lead us, Heavenly Father, lead us," and "O Father, all creating," were sung, and the choir rendered, "God be my head" (Watford Davies). The organ music included Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

The bride wore a beautiful gown of heavy Chinese satin and lace of Tudor style, with long straight sleeves and a Tudor collar, and having a girdle of pearls. Her headpiece was of orange-blossom, and she wore a long veil of Brussels net. She carried a bouquet of orchids, lily-of-the-valley, and maiden-hair fern.

TUDOR DRESSES

The bridesmaids were Miss Daphne Parker-Rees (sister of the bride) and the Misses Monica Maggs, Daphne Taverner, and Eileen Bromage. They wore Tudor-style dresses of vieux rose velvet, and headpieces of green leaves, and carried bouquets of roses to tone with their dresses.

The bride's mother was in grey chiffon, and wore a velvet tricorn hat. The bridegroom's mother wore a grey two-piece.

The bride was given away by her father, and the best man was Mr. T. Brennan.

At the reception the toast of the bride and bridegroom was proposed by Mr. H. De Bock Porter.

FORTHCOMING WEDDING

The following forthcoming wedding is announced:—Miss Nancy Penn, residing at the Chinese Y.W.C.A., Hongkong to Mr. Chao Tsi-ching, banker, Bank of Communications, residing at 30, Morrison Hill Road, Hongkong.

Mr. E. F. Watts, of the Kallan Mining Administration, has been transferred from Shanghai to the head office at Tientsin.

Round About

Walking through the commercial centre of the town one morning was a tall, smartly tailored, young person. At her side and holding tightly to her hand was a small curly-haired boy, trotting fast to keep step with his companion.

Up one block, across the intersection and another block they walked in silence.

Completing the second block the youngster slipped his hand out from that of the tall lady's and sat down on the pavement with legs crossed.

The young matron glanced at him with horror, then her expression changed to amusement and interest.

"What do you intend to do, sitting here on the sidewalk," she inquired?

"Mommie! I am just a little person, I must rest, I'm tired; you are a big person," answered the little child politely.

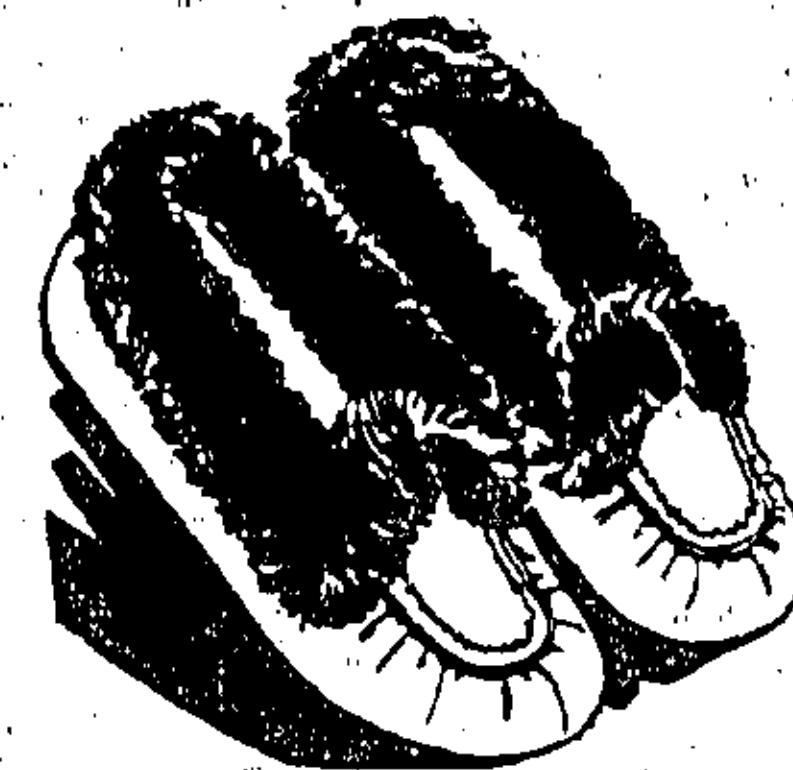

Within two minutes energy was restored and they continued their walk.

REFUGEES

WITH THE MANY REFUGEES who are expected to flow into the Colony as a result of the extension of hostilities in South China, Hongkong is once more faced with the serious question of how to accommodate and deal with the new arrivals.

The Relief Emergency Committee under the Rt. Rev. Bishop Hall is doing excellent work and is reported to be launching an appeal on behalf of those coming in. This is most praiseworthy and it is to be hoped that it will meet with a generous response.

Government has set aside the Kam Tin Aerodrome for the segregation of the refugees. This place now presents the appearance of a miniature settlement, with the hasty construction of improvised buildings to house the many who already have crossed the border and the others who are yet to come.

AN APPEAL HAS BEEN ISSUED by the Director of Medical Services, Dr. P. S. Selwyn-Clarke, who is very appreciative of the many offers of help at the Kam Tin Camp. As, however, those engaged in the actual work of constructing the camp and providing food and medical attention, etc., for the refugees are being hindered in their work by kindly disposed persons who have been presenting themselves at the camp in embarrassing numbers for the purpose of offering assistance, he suggests that such offers of help should be made through the various Chinese relief organizations who are, in turn, co-operating with the Emergency Relief Council. This request is made because the Council is assisting Government in the welfare work at the camp.

Incidentally, the Government has placed the Council in charge of the camp and the main relief organizations of Hongkong are represented on its general council. Father Ryan will act as administrator for the Council and, under his charge, will be a paid Chinese supervisor.

BLANKETS AND WARM CLOTHING, as well as whole cream milk and foodstuffs, are urgently needed. These can be sent either to St. John's Cathedral, Hongkong, or to St. Andrew's Church Hall, Kowloon.

The destruction of the Canton-Kowloon Railway and the severance of sea communications to Canton have doubtless prevented an influx on a large scale but many homeless and frightened refugees from the devastated villages near Hongkong have already made their way across the border.

WITH THE ARRIVAL OF THE COLD MONTHS, there is always the possibility of an epidemic of small-pox, and against this every precaution will have to be adopted. The necessary steps have already been taken by the health authorities and refugees are being vaccinated at the MENACE port of entry or at the Kam Tin Camp, but we would suggest that the general public should take precautions in this respect by being vaccinated at once against small-pox, for, after all, prevention is better than cure.

The provision of camps, etc., while most commendable, is not enough. Work of some sort or another must be provided to prevent these people from becoming a permanent burden on the community. They are not idlers. They are used to work and would only be too pleased to maintain their self-respect if they could be given something to do. Of course, it would be utterly impossible to give work to all, but there is not some way by which those who are able could be placed on odd jobs.

LIBERAL LEADER'S CHARGES

London, Oct. 20.
Sir Archibald Sinclair, leader of the Liberal Party in the House of Commons, in a speech yesterday charged the Prime Minister with 'neglect of the defence of the country.'

He said that of all the heavy responsibilities as chairman of the Council for National Defence, the most vital is defence of the country, which Mr. Chamberlain had gravely neglected.

He added that Britain would have done better if Mr. Chamberlain had Mr. Winston Churchill instead of Sir Thomas Inskip as Minister of Co-ordination of Defence and Mr. Anthony Eden as Foreign Minister. —Reuter.

SHANGHAI WINS AGAIN

After K.C.C. Holding Slight Lead

The Shanghai lawn bowls team continued their run of successes yesterday when they met the Kowloon Cricket Club at King's Park and won by 28 shots to 20 after letting the home team lead 8-6 in the seventh head.

The teams, together with scores, were:—

SHANGHAI:—J. M. C. Lopes, A. M. Gutierrez, W. K. McDermott, H. L. Swartzell (skip) 28
K.C.C.:—V. C. Labrum, T. Carr, H. Overly, E. Kern (skip) 20

VICTOR GITTINS BACK AGAIN

S. V. "Vic" Gittins, the well-known local sportsman, returned to the Colony yesterday from England by the R.M.S. Empress of Russia. During his term at Oxford University he was awarded his half-blue for swimming. He will probably play cricket for the K.C.C. this season.

ARMY CRICKET TEAMS

The following are the Army cricket teams for matches to-morrow.

The seniors will be at home to the Navy at Sookunpoo while the juniors will be entertained by the Recreation at King's Park.

1st Team.—Capt. Godby, Major Rawstone, Major Swyers, Lt. Weedon, Lt. Beadnell, Lt. Man, Lt. Chilverall, Sgt. Baker, Pte. Hatfield, Pte. Coombes, Driver Logan.

such as gardening, etc., and to provide the women with cloth, wool, needles and thread so that they may make blankets and padded clothes for themselves and for their less fortunate brothers and sisters in the interior, as well as for the troops?

THE SITUATION UNDOUBTEDLY IS A SERIOUS ONE and it demands the co-operation of all concerned, men and women alike, who have the interests of the Colony at heart and who desire to do something for the many refugees who are flowing into the Colony.

REFUGEE CAMP ORDER

Visitors Must Have Permits

"Relatives and friends of refugees at present accommodated in the Government emergency refugee camp at Pat Heung, New Territories, must apply at the camp for a pass to enter the camp, according to an official notice."

Those persons who wish to give an undertaking to provide housing accommodation and subsistence in the New Territories, north of a line running from Tai Po Market by the Lam Chuen Valley to Un Long, for persons in the refugee camp, should make application at A. Tau Police Station, where they will be required to sign a personal acknowledgement for $25.

It should be clearly understood that no unauthorised person will be allowed to enter the emergency camp.

DONATIONS

The Refugee Emergency Council gratefully acknowledge donations of food and clothing from the following:—Mrs. J. Owen Hughes, Dr. Lillian Dewey, Messrs. Dowdell & Co., Mr. F. H. Glover, R. ROYAL COMMISSION TO STUDY WEST INDIES

Trinidad Unrest Due To Trade Difficulties

DR. A. P. NEWTON WAS THE SPEAKER in the World Affairs series, broadcast from Daytime last night and his subject was on the Royal Commission which opened its enquiries last week, in London, into the affairs of the West Indies.

The speaker said that but for the fact that the situation in Europe had been so critical two weeks ago, more attention would have been centred on the Commission and its enquiries.

The West Indies, Dr. Newton said, came under the Crown by settlement about 300 years ago and that the British West Indies to-day fall into separate groups, each under its own government.

The largest islands in the group are Jamaica and Trinidad but the organisation of the Government is very complicated. None of the administrations have much resources behind them and they look to the British Government largely for help and advice on all matters pertaining to the smooth running of the governmental machinery.

UNREST IN TRINIDAD
British officials set to the administration of the Colonies and each one of these officials takes his order from the Secretary of State for the Colonies. The speaker then added that the unrest in both Trinidad and Jamaica earlier in the year came as a great shock to the British Government which decided to appoint a Royal Commission to look into the matter.

This Commission has ten members two of whom are women and two well-known representatives of the Labour Party. The Commission has only just begun its enquiries and at the end of the month will proceed to the West Indies to investigate matters on the spot.

Owing to transportation difficulties the Commission will divide itself into two groups and will finally meet to exchange information.

OVER-CROWDING
The speaker then went on to give his own views on why the troubles arose and added that this was due principally to over-crowding and trade difficulties.

In Barbados, the speaker said, there were 1,200 people to the square mile and while the main industry of the Colonies was sugar, the market has been greatly affected by the Sino-Japanese hostilities in that China, one of the largest purchasers of sugar, now buys almost nothing.

In one of the islands cocoa, the main industry, was produced at 35 shillings per hundredweight but it could only fetch a price of 20 shillings and it is with questions like this that the Royal Commission will have to devote its attention.

NINTH EXTRA MEETING PROMISES GOOD RACING

Poor Entries For The Griffins Cup

KWANGTUNG HANDICAP PRIZE $85,000?

By "Last Quarter"

An extremely interesting programme of eight handicap events is down for decision at the Ninth Extra Race Meeting of the Hongkong Jockey Club, which is being held to-morrow afternoon, commencing at 2 p.m. The main event, the Hongkong Griffins Cup, will probably produce the smallest field of the day, as only five ponies have been entered for this classic of the meeting; a somewhat disappointing aspect from the viewpoint of racing enthusiasts.

The meeting is certain to be largely attended as the Special $1 Cash Sweep on the Kwangtung Handicap, (the last race), will be drawn for during the course of the afternoon. Sales have been very encouraging and it is confidently expected that at least 200,000 tickets will be disposed of by to-morrow afternoon, which will place the value of the first prize around $85,000. In addition, punters will strongly support the betting in connection with the Daily Double, as the pool will be augmented by $3,704, which has been carried forward from the last meeting when not a single holder of the first leg tickets on National Guard, nominated Gold Coin as their choice for the second leg.

I believe Red Feather is quite capable of winning the Wyndham Handicap, a mile event, for "B" Class China ponies, as the weight of 147 lbs. should be anything but a burden for this bay in the Dunbar stable, whose recent performances have been quite impressive. New Star is expected to do much better, in view of the distance, than in his last outing, when he was placed second in a sprint event behind Red Feather. If the course is fast (and there is every indication to this effect), punters should not neglect Oak Bay. This grey is a speed demon and has more than once won from fields composed of superior racers. Wild Life also has a chance here, but there are rumours that this grey will not be starting and is being held over for another important engagement later in the season. Pot-nate is a good out-sider and will be worth following for a big dividend.

WYNDHAM HANDICAP (Second Section)

This mile race is the first leg of the Daily Double and a good betting race in spite of the small field. I think Rob Roy will go out a firm favourite as this iron grey has always been therabouts in this class. The main opposition will come from King's Coronation, whose track work has been impressive during the past week; but this bay is none too reliable in a race. Honeycomb Eve (168 lbs.) will probably be next in demand as this dun is on the upward trend but the weight is decidedly against her and I therefore prefer the chances of Commencement Bay for the minor place. Soldier of Britain is in much better condition and is the best outsider to follow. Boalot Bay is still short of work and will probably start but I do not expect any danger from this chestnut. Harvest View, I am afraid, will have to be relegated soon, before any more stakes money comes to the stable.

CONNAUGHT HANDICAP (Second Section)

Rose Jane is about the pick of the field in this race from the 1-1/4 mile post and should just about carry off the event. Rose Evelyn is in fairly good condition, but this roan is a bad starter and may stall at the gate. Amberley finished strongly when running second to Rose Jane at the last meeting and being better over shorter distances will be in the picture at the finish. Laughing Buddha is another sprinter of repute and one could do worse than follow this brown with a ticket each way. Soldier of China, I am afraid, will be running out of distance here, but I have been told that Sunlight View needs watching as this chestnut has come on a great deal lately.

HONGKONG GRIFFINS CUP

This 1-1/4 mile race, as mentioned above, has only produced five entries, and as Expression Time is not accepting, the field will consist of only four runners. Confusion Bay (168 lbs.) will have things very much his own way, as this bay stallion has all the makings of a champion and is well above the standard of the other starters. Moonlight View should secure second place, with Jober occupying the minor position, as Elizabeth, in my opinion, is at best only a sprinter, despite this exceptionally good mile gallop in 2:06 which she did on Wednesday morning.

CONNAUGHT HANDICAP (First Section)

This sprint event should result in an interesting fight between Just In Time and Tampa Bay. The next good entrant is Tyne, who has been improving gradually and being a first class sprinter may cause an upset here. Rose Queen who is rather a delicate animal. However, the time for the full mile was good and she must definitely be considered as a probable winner. Tornado Star is the only other remaining entry worth a small bet on. This race is the second leg of the Daily Double.

5:30 p.m.—Sussex Handicap.—Winner $550. Second $275. Third $175. For China Ponies. "B" Class. Winners of more than $2,000 in stakes since 1st January, 1938. Barred Jockey Allowance. Entrance $5. Six Furlongs.

KWANGTUNG HANDICAP

All eyes will be focussed on the Cash Sweep board for this event as the big sweep numbers will be displayed, but punters are reminded that the race itself is worth nothing as it is a very open one. Estover should be in great demand after the easy manner he won the last time, but the opposition will be much stronger; not because the others have improved in form, but that Estover has been doing only light work and consequently may not be as fit as when he last won.

Salvage Master is certain to be close at the finish as this grey is a great battler. The Leopard is also expected to run the ultimate winner very close. Coronation bay disappointed last time but should improve, while Valorous has only a slight chance owing to carrying top weight. In Whalsey we have a very good outsider as this bay sub has improved considerably since I saw him a few weeks ago. Plot Helen still seems to lack that bit of stamina but as this bay has only 143 lbs. to carry, the chances are quite bright. Double Chance, if served by a strong jockey, will not be entirely out of it.

My final selections will appear in to-morrow's issue of the Daily Press.

PEACE IN EUROPE FOR NEXT 50 YEARS

Queenstown, Cape Province, Oct. 20.

GENERAL J. M. B. HERTZOG, Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa, in a speech to-day expressed the view that the British Prime Minister, Mr. Chamberlain, had probably brought peace in Europe for the next fifty years.

General Hertzog added, "If it had not been for Mr. Chamberlain I do not doubt that by this time Europe would have been followed by ruination to such an extent that European civilisation would for many years have been delayed and may even have collapsed."—Reuter.

BRITONS WOUNDED IN PALESTINE

Jerusalem, Oct. 20.

There were British casualties in yesterday's operations in Palestine. Two British constables named Jeavons and Hallet, and a Guardsman named W. M. Brown, were wounded.

Arab casualties are not yet estimated, but eight men and one woman were known to be killed and 18 wounded. Forty arrests were made yesterday.

Two R.A.F. members were wounded on the Jericho road yesterday. They were Corporal Teynton and Aircraftman Sander.—Reuter.

CABINET MEETS

London, Oct. 20.

It is understood that the Cabinet meeting yesterday reviewed all the subject expected, but took no decisions.

Mr. Malcolm MacDonald made a lengthy report on Palestine. Mr. Neville Chamberlain later saw the Air Minister, and the Minister for the Co-ordination of Defence.—Reuter.

Hankow Defence Rehearsal In French Concession

Hankow, October 20.

The intention of the French Concession authorities to guard the Concession and keep order within the boundaries in the event of an emergency was evidenced this morning when a spectacular rehearsal of the defence arrangements was held.

The review was under the supervision of the Defence Commander, Captain La Halle.

The French garrison, 400 strong, was reinforced by a landing party of 100 men drawn from the French ships Admiral Charner and Francis Garnier.

It was also augmented by a patrol composed of 75 civilians including 12 women who are serving as telephone operators to ensure that communications between the four defence posts into which the Concession is divided will be smoothly organised.

Promptly at 7 a.m. this morning steel-helmeted landing parties and khaki-clad volunteers concentrated on the French Bund where light infantry guns, trench mortars and midge tanks completed the picture.

STRONG DEFENCE WORKS.

Later, detachments marched off to man the strongly constructed defence works erected at strategic points along the Concession boundaries and strung with heavy barbed wire barricades.

Captain La Halle, at the conclusion of the operations, declared himself satisfied with the morning exercise.

Despite these preparations, it must be emphasised that foreign-

Further Evidence In Spy Trial

New York, Oct. 20.

The scheme for forging President Roosevelt's signature on White House stationery in order to secure information about the United States Navy was described by Guenther Rumlach in evidence during continuation of the spy trial yesterday.

Rumlach said that Karl Schleuter (whom the Government describes as a fugitive from indictment) told him that it would be useful to obtain information from the yards building ships for the Navy, and suggested to Rumlach that he write to Hamburg requesting to be furnished with stationery similar to that used at the White House.

He added that he expected a lot of money if the plan was successful.

Rumlach said that Schleuter told him he had made a "very lucky strike," and that he had obtained the contract between the Bethlehem Steel Corporation and the Soviet Russian Amtorg Trading Corporation from a mail bag on the Europa. He had photographed it and replaced it in the mail bag.

Rumlach said that Hofmann had showed him photographs of a copy of the contract and also copies of letters from officials of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

He also said that Nazi agents in anticipation of a German march on Czechoslovakia, had engaged his younger brother to act in Prague.—Reuter.

£3,250,000

CONTRACT FOR CLYDE

Subject to the settlement of certain details the Admiralty have decided to entrust the construction of the aircraft-carrier of the 1938 programme, H.M.S. Implacable, to the Fairfield Shipbuilding and Engineering Company, Limited, Govan, Glasgow.

The value of this contract should be about £3,250,000, and it will provide work for three years.

The Implacable makes a total of six aircraft-carriers ordered since 1935, all from private firms.

The first of them, H.M.S. Ark Royal, is now ready for service. The Implacable will be the first carrier to be built by the Fairfield Company, which has, however, built a number of the largest vessels for the Navy for many years, and now has in hand the battleship Beatty, the cruiser Phoenix, and some destroyers.

JAPANESE BANK REPORTS SHOW WAR STRAIN

The task of financing the Sino-Japanese conflict is having major repercussions on Japan's economic position, says "The Times." Great efforts are being made to mitigate these unfavourable influences, but inflationary tendencies have been reflected in rising prices and a diminution in exports.

Four Japanese banks, Yokohama Specie, Mitsubishi, Sumitomo, and the Industrial Bank of Japan have just issued their reports, and in their different ways appraise the varied type of banking they represent, the accounts show the strain which the war has been causing on them.

WELL-KNOWN OLD CHINA RESIDENT LEAVES

"Pop" Graham Of Tientsin Came Out In 1898

One of the most "salty" characters of Tientsin's British community, Major T. J. Graham, commonly referred to as "Pop" Graham, left Hongkong by the s.s. Patroclus for home on Wednesday accompanied by his daughter, Miss Thelma Graham.

Mrs. Graham has settled down at Eltham, in England, and when Major Graham and his daughter arrive they will meet in the largest family reunion for the past ten years. One of the daughters, however, remains out here, namely, Mrs. Marjorie Frost.

Another link with the hectic days of the Boxer upheaval is broken with Major T. J. Graham's departure, for he originally came out to Hongkong with the 2nd Batt. Royal Welch Fusiliers in 1898—40 years ago—and was with the troops in the Relief of Peking two years later. He was appointed to General Gaselee's staff and mentioned in dispatches.

In 1902 he purchased his discharge from the Army and joined the Chinese Engineering and Mining Company at Tongshan. A man of exceptional energy and all-round activity, he joined in all the sporting life of the community, including racing, paper hunting and soccer.

MENTIONED IN DISPATCHES

Major Graham was one of the first to leave North China for the Great War, though he was the father of a fairly large family and by no means a young man in years, and saw active service in Gallipoli and Mesopotamia. He was second in command of his Battalion and took command when his Colonel was killed in open fighting on the successful advance to Baghdad. Mentioned in dispatches in connection with this campaign, he received the Staff appointment of D. A. D. R. T. after the capture of the ancient city, and was again mentioned in dispatches.

Whilst awaiting demobilisation, he held the appointment of Deputy Director of the Appointments Department, Ministry of Labour, Belfast, and was "demobbed" with the substantive rank of Major. He returned to China in July, 1919, and in 1925 was appointed Internal Auditor of the Kailan Mining Administration, which post he held up to the time of his retirement.

A prominent figure in the Tientsin United Services (Great War) Association, he was Vice-President and President for many years. On two occasions he held the post of Chairman of the Tientsin Club.

Major Graham is a keen Freemason and recently attained a highly coveted distinction, namely, appointment to office in the Grand Lodge of England, and also in the Supreme Grand Chapter.

MEETING TO DECIDE ON MANDATES

Salisbury, 8. Rhodesia, Oct. 20.

Parliament yesterday adopted unanimously a motion urging the Government to request the Imperial Government to summon a meeting of the heads of the Dominions and Colonies to decide on a policy with regard to the "continued holding or relinquishment of mandated territories."

The Prime Minister, Mr. Higgins, said he did not intend to come to any opinion with regard to mandates.

He would not like Germany to be brought any nearer to Southern Rhodesia until she proved she could behave in a civilised manner, but he believed that would be brought about.—Reuter.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN AND CITY OF LONDON

Honorary Freedom to Be Offered

The Corporation of London, meeting on October 6 at Guildhall, unanimously decided to offer the honorary freedom of the City to the Prime Minister, Mr. Chamberlain.

Major Vine, the Chief Commoner, in moving the necessary resolution, said that for centuries past it had been the privilege of the Corporation of London, the representative body of the City of London and the centre of the Empire, to present the honorary freedom of the City to eminent men who had rendered long and faithful service to King and country.

On this occasion he was asking the Court to offer the freedom to the Prime Minister, Mr. Neville Chamberlain.

He thought that every member of the Court would agree, whatever his political opinions might be, that the outstanding services of the Prime Minister during the last three or four fateful weeks were of such a nature that he was deserving of the highest honour which the Corporation had to bestow. (Cheers.)

Alderman Sir George Truscott, a senior Alderman, seconded the motion, and it was carried with acclamation.

Mr. Chamberlain is already a Freeman of the City. He is a member of the Cordwainers' Company, with which his family have been associated for centuries. The Chamberlain family were originally cordwainers in the Ward of Bread Street. Mr. Joseph Chamberlain was a Liverman of the Cordwainers' Company and Sir Austen Chamberlain was serving the office of Master at the time of his death.

NEW GIANT CLIPPER TAKES FIRST TEST

Record Load On Extended Trip

A forty-one-ton Boeing clipper, first of six being built for Pan-American Airways trans-Atlantic service, performed "admirably," engineers reported, in her first extended flight above north-western Washington recently.

She carried what the Boeing Aircraft Company said was a new American record load—water and lead ballast sufficient to provide 70,000 gross pounds—and will be laden to her rated capacity of 82,500 pounds gross load, on future flights.

Evidence was given at a Skegness inquest that a wasp, swallowed by P.C. William John Hawkins, 38, of Raunds, Northamptonshire, stung the windpipe, which swelled so acutely that Hawkins was choked to death. Death, from misadventure was the verdict.

SENIOR LEAGUE PROSPECTS

CHINESE 'DERBY' SUNDAY AT CAROLINE HILL

Will Eastern Take Points From South China "A"?

KOWLOON SHOULD BEAT SAINTS

UNDOUBTEDLY THE MAIN ATTRACTION in the League Football programme for the week-end will be the much-awaited meeting between South China "A" and Eastern Athletic Association at Caroline Hill. The match will start at 4.30 p.m. and should attract a capacity attendance as there is very keen rivalry between these two strong Chinese sides. It will be well worth the journey to the ground to see two teams, with very little to choose between them, matched against one another to contest for two points.

South China, in four matches to date, have suffered defeat once at the hands of the Middlesex, the Chinese having beaten the Royal Scots, St. Joseph's and the Police. Eastern, on the other hand, have only lost one point in three matches they having drawn with the Royal Scots last week and beaten the Police and the Club.

The wiles of Fung King-cheong matched against the shooting powers of Suen Kam-shun, the defence of Leung Wing-chiu against the anticipation of Soong Ling-sing should all go to make up a really thrilling match. A draw would be a fair result but it would not come as a big surprise if Eastern drive home the issue by the odd goal solely by reason that their forwards are more thrustful than the South China "A" men.

KOWLOON WILL TRAVEL to Caroline Hill to-morrow afternoon to engage St. Joseph's who last week went down to Middlesex by the odd goal in five. Having scored

SHANGHAI GOLFERS LOSE AT SHEK-O

Five of the Shanghai golfers were entertained by the Shek-O Country Club on Wednesday afternoon. One single match and two fourball matches were played, and thanks to local knowledge, so necessary on this tricky little course, the home team was successful in both fourballs but lost the single.

One Shanghai golfer remarked, "We find it very difficult to keep our eyes properly on the ball amidst such beautiful surroundings."

The results were:—F. Groves and T. A. Pearce beat G. D. Nicholl and K. M. Cumming 3 and 2; R. Young and S. H. Dodwell

UNIVERSITIES' RUGGER WINS

London, Oct. 19.
Both Oxford and Cambridge Universities scored successes at rugger to-day.

The Dark Blues, playing Gloucester, won by 14-3 and the Light Blues defeated St. Bart's Hospital by 25-10.

Kent beat Eastern Counties by 15-8 at Maidstone and Surrey defeated Sussex by 18-11 at Worthing. —Reuter.

The Peakock—(or White-Spotted Talpan)

This creature lives on very high ground, and occasionally descends upon the towns below and carries away case after case of H.B. BEER.

When he spreads himself it is a truly wonderful sight and everybody goes to see, whether they have been asked or not.
